

Between 13% and 25% of participants express agreement with statements that either endorse or fail to criticise violence towards refugees.

